THE DIFFERENT SIDE OF MALLORCA

The beautiful island of Mallorca boasts an average of 300 days of sunshine each year. This, combined with numerous excellent beaches, with fine golden sand, and clear blue seas, means that Mallorca is understandably a popular destination.

Mallorca is the largest of the Balearic islands and offers interesting attractions. The island is blessed by a hot Mediterranean sun that is complemented by cool, refreshing sea breezes and the winters are quite mild.

With many popular resorts close to the beaches, there is always something to do on Mallorca, whatever the time of year. There are countless restaurants, bars, cafés and nightclubs and Mallorca's nightlife is legendary, attracting a young crowd. However, away from the resorts, inland towns are fairly undeveloped and offer a more relaxed way of life, with many interesting attractions.

THE AUTHENTIC MANOR HOUSE IN MALLORCA

This ancient manor house, known as 'possessió', the name for large properties in the mountains or countryside. The archduke, Luis Salvador of Austria, who gathered as much information as he could about the island of his time (1872-1913), described this place as: "The house property belonging to the Marquis of Vivot, is a very large house with a terrace and a red tiled roof, held up by six stone pillars. Its extensive façade with a lowered arch door, leading to the interior patio, on the left you will find the chapel. The esplanade of the house offers a beautiful view that spreads out to the bay of Palma."

The best venue in Mallorca to celebrate cocktails, galas or banquets.
